Biography:

Samah Abd Lateif Mousa Ishtieh Buzieh, Ph.D. Candidate, MSN in Nursing Management. I am a Head of the Department of Adult Health Nursing AND Fundamental Of Nursing before one semester 2022 until now. Furthermore, I am a teacher & clinical coordinator at Nursing department at Faculty of medicine and health sciences/An-Najah National University. Earned a bachelor's degree in nursing from the University of Jordan in 1997 and worked in Rafidia Hospital specialized in several sections such as Burn unit and Intensive care Unit (ICU), Neonate intensive care (NICU), emergency department and others. I worked as trainer clinical nursing students in 2005 and then in 2006 submitted my resignation from the Rafidia hospital to work in the College of Nursing at An-Najah National University as a research and teaching assistant and coordinator for practical training program of Nursing, Midwifery and Master Program of Community Mental Health Nursing, Nursing Anaesthesia and Critical care Nursing until now. Through that I earned a master's degree in nursing administration in 2010 from AL-Quds University. My Master dissertation title: "Perception and Practices of West Bank Nursing Faculties toward Nursing Education Standards at Bachelor level". I shared with a Project of Problem-based Learning in Nursing College at the University of An-Najah. I worked extensively with Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs) and starts my course 'nursing management and leadership' on moodle program. I am a research supervisor for baccalaureate students at An-Najah National University and co-supervisor for medical students for her research project. I attended several conferences locally and internationally that are related to my specialty field. Now, I joined the first PhD program in Palestine in 2020 at Jacksonville University, which is twinned with the Arab American University in Jenin.
